Chief,

Addressee's Course at Strategic Intelligence School

1. It has come to the attention of this office that a paper prepared by you, while you were a student attending the Strategic Intelligence School conducted by the Department of the Army, has been selected for publication as a text book for future classes.

2. The application of your talents to the academic requirements of the course in such a successful manner reflects considerable credit on [REDACTED] as the sponsoring organization, as well as on yourself. You are commended for this meritorious endeavor.
